Winter Indoor Soccer Season...

If you are interested in playing or coaching indoor soccer this winter, now is the time to let us know. We will help you set up a team or find a team to play on. There is a significant skill increase when a player plays indoor soccer. It's a faster game where more agility and footwork is demanded.
Please call Cris Patyi to play indoor this winter. 586-453-2894

One of the biggest mistakes an adult can make is to force a passing game on children too early. Young players should dribble as much as possible -- because dribbling is the first step to mastering all ball skills.

Resist the temptation to shout at young players to pass the ball. U.S. Soccer's Best Practices Player Development Guidelines stress that coaches should "Encourage the dribbler at the younger ages ... Dribbling, at the younger ages, is the child's attempt to gain control over the ball. Controlling the ball is the primary skill that every other skill in soccer depends on. ... Do not expect him or her to look to the pass or to pass with any level of competence or awareness, until he or she has mastered this skill."

BE PATIENT. Children will naturally, but slowly, begin to comprehend the benefits of sharing the ball. Even if the adults do nothing to encourage passing, players will begin to ask each other for the ball. They will learn from each other and from the game.

POINTS FOR PASSING. Scrimmaging and small-sided games should be the main part of practice sessions. Demonstrate the wall pass - or give-and-go - and tell the children that whenever they complete a wall pass, it counts as a goal.

You don't want to discourage individual creativity or risk-taking.

Two-touch serves some valuable purposes. It forces players to focus on their first touch. It's crucial for players to learn that trapping a ball dead is not as effective as a first touch that positions the ball so that they can pass, shoot, or embark on a dribble with the second touch.

But two-touch should be used sparingly and not at all before the player masters some ball skills. Www.usyouthsoccer.org

NMCYS Select Teams are DOING GREAT!

Four of our NMCYS Select Teams played in the St Clair Shores Soccer Invitational.

The NMCYS Romeo Football Club Fire coached by Chris Behring was first in their division 3-0-1.

The NMCYS Romeo Football Club Yellow Jackets coached by Cris Patyi did very well for an under 9 boys team playing in the U10 Division with one win. That's a big deal for an Under 9 team!

The NMCYS Romeo Football Club Vortex Under 9 Girls played awesome in the Under 10 division as well.

The NMCYS Richmond Fury ended up 2 and 2.

Our Under 9 Girls Tempest won their division at the Memorial Day Tournament.

A big woo-hoo to our Select Teams.

Our teams will also be playing in the North Macomb Peach Fest Soccer Tournament. Good Luck!

For concerns about a referee, player or coach... please wait until the game is done.

Please talk to Chris Newby or Cris Patyi or email us at info@nmcys.org or call the Soccer Hotline at 586-615-9982.

Our club can only get better with information from you.

NMCYS Select Teams

NMCYS is expanding. Ready for the next level of soccer? Looking for more competitive play? Want more training? Do you know of another team that would want to be part of the NMCYS Select Division?

We invite coaches with their own teams to check us out. Call Cris Patyi 586-453-2894

Motivating Your Child.....

Are you frustrated with your child not focusing on the game? Do you need some help with their motivation? Try using the soccer ball patches available at the information table. Every time they score a goal you can buy a soccer ball patch for 50 cents. If they made a great play you can buy the star patch. NMCYS has had great success in using these patches as a tool from ages 2.5 until 16. The kids learn that they can collect patches and it fires them up! We have the juggler patches so they practice on their own at home. We have the end of year custom patches to complete their collections every year. Come to the information table every Saturday and show off the designs to your child. Or buy a few samples to carry in your pocket. It works! Try it!

Thanks for your patience with our coaches and referees and players and other parents....
Respect in the Game of Soccer
Is a Big Deal!
Help us to make our League
a fun place to be!
Thanks the NMCYS Team.
